SESSION 1

Mr. Michael Toth

“NEW PEDAGOGY FOR A NEW CENTURY”

Artificial intelligence is developing so fast that 50% of existing jobs will be automated over the next ten years and our economy has evolved faster than our educational system. We need to create 'future-proof skills' for today's students. Join Michael Toth, respected researcher, and author of Who Moved My Standards, School Leadership for Results, as well as other titles on instruction, as he explores how to transform classrooms from traditional to 21st century future-proof classrooms. Leave with an inspired vision for your school and district.

PRE-CONFERENCE SESSION
Wednesday, November 15, 2017 10:30 a.m. – 3:15 p.m.
Salon B, Admission Ticket Required

SESSION 2

Dr. David A. Sousa

“ENGAGING THE REWIRED BRAIN & TRANSLATING BRAIN RESEARCH INTO EDUCATIONAL PRACTICE”

Technology is changing our brains. It is impacting our attention spans, memory, thinking processes, and social interaction--and the effects are even more pronounced in the brains of our students. We might not know exactly what it all means, but one thing is perfectly clear: to ensure that today's students succeed, educators must change the way they teach. Join Dr. David Sousa, a highly respected consultant in educational neuroscience and author of Engaging the Rewired Brain, for a fascinating session about the research findings in educational neuroscience, specific strategies for working the rewired brain, and how technology-induced changes may benefit learners.

Did you know that as an educator, you are a brain changer? Dr. David Sousa will explore how to leverage what we know about the functions of the brain to make the greatest impact on your students.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 2017

3:30 p.m. - 4:30 p.m., Conference Room 3

Audience Code: G

“Targeting Standards with Item Types & Assessment Design”

Presenter: Dave Nelson, Performance Matters

This session will focus on best practices in designing well-targeted items in both traditional and technology-enhanced formats in order to address the specific learning targets and informational needs of students, teachers and administrators. At both the classroom and district level, the session connects the blueprinting process, learning targets, standards and assessment design as each a fundamental element of a coherent planning and administration process.

3:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m., Conference Rooms 4 & 5

Audience Code: G

“Exploring New PearsonAccessNext and TestNav Updates”

Presenters: Jeff Heathman and Rebecca Hoeft, Pearson

In this session, Pearson will review their 2017-2018 product release schedule. Learn about new feature updates and see demonstrations in PearsonAccessNext 4.2 & 4.3 and TestNav 8.9 & 8.10.

3:30 p.m. - 4:30 p.m., Conference Room 6

Audience Code: G

“Accountability and Health Education”

Presenter: Kirsten Roller, MSDE

Maryland's ESSA plan, the “Start Talking Maryland Act” of 2017, and “Erin’s Law” of 2016 have focused new attention on health education PreK-12. Learn about the legislative requirements related to opioid addiction and prevention education as well as sexual abuse and assault education. Session participants will learn how a skills-based approach facilitates active learning where students engage with the content in a relevant way to acquire the skills for lifetime health.

4:45 p.m. – 5:45 p.m., Conference Room 1

Audience Code: G

“Understanding Item Analysis using the Data Management and Reporting System (DMRS)”

Presenters: Sarah Crisman & Jennifer Neidenbach, Prince George's County

Get a hands-on look at the public release items from PARCC as they are displayed in the Item Analysis report in DMRS. We will take a closer look at how the standards and public release items relate to a student’s overall score.

4:45 p.m. – 5:45 p.m., Conference Room 2

Audience Code: G

“Utilizing NWEA MAP Data to Impact Student Achievement and Teacher Practice”

Presenters: Georgia Clark & R. Joseph Buckley, Cecil County

Cecil County Public Schools utilizes NWEA MAP testing for students in grades 2-8 in Reading and Mathematics. Presenters will share how they translated test performance data into instructional practice. Learn strategies used that resulted in the greatest percent growth in PARCC data in ELA and Math in the state and how individual schools, principals and teachers affected a change in teacher performance.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 2017

4:45 p.m. – 5:45 p.m., Conference Room 3

Audience Code: G

“Effective Mentoring Conversations”

Presenter: Daniel Capozzi, MSDE

Facilitating conversations between coaches/mentors and new teachers: Entry points, questioning, and NTC's Collaborative Assessment Log.

4:45 p.m. – 5:45 p.m., Conference Rooms 4 & 5

Audience Code: G

“Best Practices for PARCC”

Presenters: Diane Jenkins, Leigh Ann Anderson, and Ian Buter, Charles County & Patti West-Smith, Turnitin

While PARCC is confined to specific courses, the thinking and practice required to master those skills is not. Because we know writing is one of those essential skills for PARCC, students must practice writing throughout their coursework. To do it well, they need to write often and receive ongoing, formative feedback. In our session, we will talk about how to leverage technology to support literacy, communication, consistent expectations, and feedback across all content areas.

4:45 p.m. – 5:45 p.m., Conference Room 6

Audience Code: G

“Three Ways Leaders Can Create a Standards-Based Mindset”

Presenter: Lisa Lienemann, Learning Sciences International

Whether you are a principal, instructional coach, or teacher leader, you play a role in shifting to a standards-based mindset. Hear about three concrete steps you can take to deepen teacher understanding of their standards, monitor the transition to a new mindset, and create assessment literate teachers.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 2017

5:45 p.m. – 7:00 p.m. DINNER BUFFET - Crystal Ballroom
Sponsored by Performance Matters

7:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m., Crystal Ballroom
OPENING KEYNOTE ADDRESS

“Core Instruction for Formative Assessment”

Presenter: Michael Toth

Michael Toth, author of Who Moved My Standards and CEO of Learning Sciences International and the LSI Center for Applied Research, explains how traditional core instruction is a barrier to effective minute-to-minute formative assessment and how teachers can overcome this barrier through student-centered strategies. Mr. Toth will also share a case study and promising research to support this approach.

“Whatever Happened to Creativity in Our Schools?”

Presenter: David Sousa

Neuroscience research supports the notion that we can actually teach students to be more creative. This keynote examines how programs like STEM may be inadvertently hindering student creativity, and what we can do about it. You will be stunned to discover what students say about creativity in our schools.

8:00 p.m. – 10:00 p.m., Salon B
Cocktail Reception
Sponsored by Pearson

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 2017

7:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m.           REGISTRATION - Lower Terrace Lobby

7:15 a.m. – 8:30 a.m.           BREAKFAST BUFFET - Crystal Ballroom

8:30 a.m. – 9:30 a.m., Salon B

“ESSA: Accountability in Maryland”

Audience Code: G

Presenter: Chandra Haislet, MSDE

Attendees will learn about the development of Maryland’s accountability program as required under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA). The components and the implementation of the Accountability System will be discussed. Attendees will learn how to use the information reported from Maryland’s Accountability Program to inform decision making.

8:30 a.m. – 9:30 a.m., Conference Room 1

Audience Code: G

“Hidden in Plain View: Six Keys to Taking Success to Scale”

Presenter: Ronald Thomas, Towson University

How can schools take the success of a few high-performing teams to scale across an entire school, or, parlay the success of a few schools across an entire district? This session will help you spot the keys to school-wide success and implement evidence-based improvement strategies to increase teacher and student learning across your whole school.

8:30 a.m. – 10:30 a.m., Conference Room 2

Audience Code: MS

2 hour presentation

“Re-envision your Curriculum System: ELA Secondary Focus”

Presenter: Carla Moore, Learning Sciences International

What are the attributes of a literacy classroom that meet the demands of ELA shifts for CCR Standards? Adapting instruction to meet the shifts for ELA can seem daunting. In this session, we will share strategies to help ensure your lesson plans and instructional techniques meet the levels of rigor required for student success. Discover powerful tools to create a thriving literacy culture where every student can become a successful reader and writer.

8:30 a.m. – 9:30 a.m., Conference Room 3

Audience Code: G

“Implementing Formative Assessments in a K-8 Special Ed Setting”

Presenters: Despina Moniodis, Shelly Ritchie, & Meredith Wyatt, Kennedy Krieger

Learn about our yearlong process of developing, implementing, modifying, & analyzing formative assessments on a school and classroom level in the area of math. Presenters will discuss challenges and successes with creating an appropriate and attainable assessment through collaboration, data collection and modifications.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 2017

8:30 a.m. – 9:30 a.m., Conference Rooms 4 & 5

Audience Code: G

“Got Data? Now Make It Work For You!”

Presenter: Jaimie Bowers, MSDE & Kathy Johnson, Pearson

Education's favorite four letter word; DATA, can be a powerful tool in understanding student performance and improving teaching and learning. Learn how to help inspire staff to identify the right assessment data points to make growth happen. The session will also discuss the importance of data discussions, collaborative data talks, and data planning meetings and the crucial role they play on the path to making positive change happen in a classroom, school, and district.

8:30 a.m. – 9:30 a.m., Conference Room 6

Audience Code: M

“Using the Latest PARCC Mathematics Assessment Data to Inform Instruction”

Presenter: Nina Riggs, MSDE

Analyze the released PARCC data from 2015-2017 for Grades 6-8, including Grade 8 Algebra 1. Discover trends across the evidence statements to target areas of weaknesses and strengths. Identify content trajectories within these areas, and explore ways to improve 2018 PARCC performance.

9:45 a.m. – 10:45 a.m., Salon B

Audience Code: G

“Science Assessment Lessons Learned”

Presenters: Mary Thurlow & Ann Herrmann, MSDE

This session will focus on building an understanding of the process of developing, implementing, & analyzing a statewide large-scale summative assessment for science based on the Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS). Presenters will discuss the challenges and successes of developing an integrated large-scale science assessment.

9:45 a.m. – 10:45 a.m., Conference Room 1

Audience Code: G

“Making the Move to an SAT School Day”

Presenters: Deborah Gilmartin and Andrew Raith, Frederick County & Cindy Kelly, College Board

Find out why Frederick County decided to implement an SAT School Day in lieu of administering PARCC 11th grade measures. The changes to the SAT test was the catalyst to creating a system that helps all students exceed. Content alignment, student support through Knan academy, and educator support through the online portal all add to student success.

8:30 a.m. – 10:30 a.m., Conference Room 2

Carla Moore, Part 2

9:45 a.m. – 10:45 a.m., Conference Room 3

Audience Code: G

“Learning from the Data: Avoiding the Pitfalls of the Most Common Errors on CCR Mastery Measures”

Presenter: Sonya Coleman and Ken Tam, Curriculum Associates

What if you could plan instruction now to help your students successfully navigate the most common errors and misconceptions in Math and Reading on CCR assessments. Examining data from more than a million students who completed Mastery Measures in Math and Reading, this session will look at nationwide trends and offer suggestions for instructional strategies and tools to help educators address these frequent misconceptions and common errors.

9:45 a.m. – 10:45 a.m., Conference Rooms 4 & 5 Audience Code: G

“Opportunities and Challenges for Educational Agencies in the Era of ESSA”

Presenters: Dr. Bonnie Hain, CenterPoint Education Solutions; Jennifer Young, Calvert County; & Denise Shorts, Worcester County

Three leaders from vastly different educational agencies will discuss the opportunities and challenges in working to align local assessments with standards and large-scale assessment programs under ESSA. Speakers will share lessons learned on tools that support local assessment selection and development, and ways to communicate decisions effectively.

9:45 a.m. – 10:45 a.m., Conference Room 6 Audience Code: G

“Utilizing NWEA MAP-Reading to Improve Instruction in a Large School District”

Presenters: Andrew Pruski & Christopher Gardy, Prince George's County

The presentation will focus on Prince George's County Public Schools' transition from the Scholastic Reading Inventory to the NWEA MAP-Reading assessment. NWEA MAP-R data provides in-depth analysis for measuring Lexile bands and RIT scores to measure student progress in reading. Best practices for the NWEA MAP- Reading Assessment will also be covered.

11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m., Salon B Audience Code: M

“Strategies to Improve Algebra Knowledge in the Middle School Student”

Presenter: Nina Riggs, MSDE

Analysis of released PARCC data from 2015-2017 for Grades 6-8 shows distinct areas of weakness surrounding algebraic thinking. In this session, participants will explore the evidenced based recommendations made by the What Works Clearinghouse and reflect on how these recommendations can be used to improve algebra knowledge in middle school students.

11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m., Conference Room 1 Audience Code: G

“Improving Access to the Alternate Assessment: Caroline County's Efforts for Increase Communication Competency”

Presenters: Carissa Hollinger & Katie Birmingham, Caroline County

Learn about how Caroline County has increased communication competency among their most significant populations of students in order to provide access to the MSAA and the MISA.

Participants will learn about systematic changes, beliefs, and processes that were put in place so that rigorous but realistic expectations were instituted. Follow their journey from one of the highest ESR in the state to meeting state targets/expectations.

11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m., Conference Room 2 Audience Code: E

“Student-Centered Goal Setting in the Gifted Classroom”

Presenters: David Warrenfeltz & Erica Hartley, Washington County

Most classrooms have students on a wide variety of levels on any content's learning continuum.

Formative assessment and data can be used to guide student-centered goal setting allowing teachers to personalize learning. Come learn about processes and resources to create a goal setting and goal achieving culture within your classroom!

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 2017

11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m., Conference Room 3

Audience Code: H

“Graduation Validation: Ensuring Accurate Data Capture”

Presenter: Ben Goldberg, Baltimore City

Baltimore City Public Schools will explain the graduation validation process which was designed to ensure that all graduates have met requirements. We will discuss our collaborative process that involves multiple departments and direct interface with schools. We will seek feedback as we work consistently to improve the process.

11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m., Conference Rooms 4 & 5

Audience Code: G

“UDL, Thinking Routines, and Formative Assessment”

Presenters: Steven Van Rees & Jackie Jacobs, Calvert County

In this session, we will examine how thinking routines and protocols can assist in the development and demonstration of student understanding. Participants will have the opportunity to explore and experiment with several routines, each of which can be used in any content area.

11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m., Conference Room 6

Audience Code: G

“Linking Thinking and Learning”

Presenters: Pamela Mesta & Brian Wienholt, Carroll County

Come to this interactive session to explore "Universal Thinking Verbs," which are a common group of cross-curricular verbs that identify fundamental thinking skills necessary for success. Tons of instructional strategies and connections to learning objectives will be explored!

12:00 p.m. – 1:00 p.m.

LUNCH BUFFET, Crystal Ballroom

1:00 p.m. – 1:50 p.m. Crystal Ballroom

ESSA Requirements and College Board’s Position in Other States

Presenter: David Adams, Vice President of Middle States and New England Regions
&

Cindy Kelly, SAT/PSAT Regional Director, College Board

How is the SAT playing into states’ ESSA plans? College Board’s accommodations will be discussed as well as the SAT Suite of Assessments and the partnership with Khan Academy. Learn how and why the system works to improve student performance.

2:00 p.m. – 2:45 p.m., Exhibit Hall, Salon A

Dessert and Beverages

Vendor Discussions and Door Prizes

Must Be Present to Win!!!!

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 2017

2:45 p.m. – 3:45 p.m., Salon B

Audience Code: M/H

“Noticing and Wondering” - A Closer Look at Spring 2017 PARCC Algebra I Data

Presenter Debra Ward, MSDE

What conclusions can be drawn from an in-depth analysis of the PARCC Algebra I data? This session will explore what the various PARCC Algebra I data reports do and do not reveal. Participants will gain a better understanding of the structure of the PARCC Algebra I assessment and the connections to how the data is reported.

2:45 p.m. – 3:45 p.m., Conference Room 1

Audience Code: G

“Tech Toolbox”

Presenter: Marcia Porter, Caroline County

Whether you are in a one-device room or a 1-to-1 setting, harness the power of technology to transform learning in your classroom. From planning to formative assessment to modifications for students on a plan, walk away with a variety of tech tools to be used with and by your students.

2:45 p.m. – 4:45 p.m., Conference Room 2

Audience Code: G

2 hour presentation

“Re- envision your Curriculum System: Math Focus”

Presenter: Carla Moore, Learning Sciences International

What are the attributes of a mathematics classroom that meets the demands of shifts for CCR Standards? Adapting instruction to meet the shifts for math standards can seem daunting. In this session, we will share strategies to help ensure your lesson plans and instructional techniques meet the levels of rigor required for student success. We will help you make connections between math instructional shifts and Core Actions, and share tools that will help you develop a numeracy culture where every student can think like a mathematician.

2:45 p.m. – 3:45 p.m., Conference Room 3

Audience Code: G

“Assessing to Inform Teaching and Learning: Formative Assessment Techniques for Every Classroom”

Presenters: Francis (Skip) Fennell, McDaniel College; Jon Wray, Howard County; & Beth Kobett, Stevenson University

Assessment of student learning is the responsibility of every school/district and every teacher. Join us as we explore examples of the Formative 5 – classroom-based formative assessment techniques that are used to guide mathematics planning and teaching as well as monitor and assess learning in every classroom, everyday!

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 2017

2:45 p.m. – 3:45 p.m., Conference Rooms 4 & 5

Audience Code: R

“Data Collections, Reporting, and More!”

Presenters: Matt Dammann & Laia Tiderman, MSDE

Staff within the Office of Accountability will share updates on the status of current and upcoming data collections, changes in reporting, and anything else you would like to discuss! This session is intended for central office staff to understand the direction coming from MSDE in regards to data collection and reporting. Attendees will have an opportunity for interactive discussion and questions.

2:45 p.m. – 3:45 p.m., Conference Room 6

Audience Code: G

“MSDE Reporting for MSAA and Alt-MISA: Using and Interpreting Assessment Results and Performance Level Descriptors”

Presenter: Marsie Torchon, MSDE

This session will focus on reporting for ELA, Mathematics and Science for students who take the Alternate Assessments. We will discuss available data for each assessment and learn how to tie the performance level descriptors to instruction.

4:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m., Conference Room: Salon B

Audience Code: G

“Teacher to Teacher Learning: Cultivating Peer Coaching”

Presenter: Angela DeGuzman & Laura Liccione, MSDE

Learn about the peer coaching process as a tool for embedded professional learning. Participants will dive into the process, data, and protocols for peer coaching and look at examples from other school from around the state.

4:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m., Conference Room 1

Audience Code: G

“Fostering a Growth Mindset: Getting Results & Goalsetting”

Presenter: Judith Wilson, Montgomery County

Fostering a growth mindset can impact student achievement in many ways. When students combine aspects of a growth mindset with goal setting, they track their own scores on MAP assessments (NWEA’s Measures of Academic Progress) and aim higher. See the tools teachers can use and ways to support success.

2:45 p.m. – 4:45 p.m., Conference Room 2

Audience Code: G

Carla Moore, Part 2

4:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m., Conference Room 3

Audience Code: G

“Student Growth Through the Use of PARCC Evidence Statement Reports and Formative Assessments”

Presenters: Julie Morrison & Amanda Garner, Calvert County

Calvert County teachers who use the PARCC Evidence statements, performance level descriptors, and on-going formative assessment to guide instructional choices saw greater student growth than their peers. Learn how to drill down from PARCC evidence statements to daily instructional choices as you move your students to rigorous standards.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 2017

4:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m., Conference Rooms 4 & 5

Audience Code: G

“Using Item-Level Analytics to Improve Assessment & Inform Curriculum”

Presenter: Dave Nelson, Performance Matters

Using both classical test theory and modern measurement models contextualized to tests with given purposes, this workshop-style professional development will explore the ideal distribution of item difficulty, the importance of item discrimination (and its location) and the use of distractor analysis to revise items and gain information about student understanding and ability.

4:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m., Conference Room 6

“Secret Sauce of a School's Success: PLC's and Data Chats!”

Presenters: Laura Arenella and Liz Glover Worcester County & Ken Tam, Curriculum Associates

Worcester County students achieve deeper understanding of standards as a result of conducting PLCs to analyze formative assessment data and planning for rigorous instruction. Regular data chats help educators use real-time assessment data to identify challenges and empower students to own their growth. Join representatives from Buckingham Elementary School as they share their experience and model effective data chat strategies.

5:30 p.m. – 7:00 p.m., Salon B

“FAME and Beyond”

Presenter: Angela DeGuzman & Heather Sauers, MSDE

During this informative presentation, participants will learn about updates around Formative Assessment for Maryland Educators including FARROP and the New CCSSO Definition.

8:00 a.m. – 9:00 a.m., Salon B

Audience Code: G

“Science Assessment-Updates”

Presenters: Donna Balado, Mary Thurlow, & Jeremy Haack, MSDE

Educators, students, and parents have raised questions regarding the content, timing, reporting, timelines, and impact of the Maryland Integrated Science Assessments (MISA) on instruction. This session will focus on building an understanding of the expectations and the available resources for MISA for the 2017-2018 school year. Participants will be introduced to resources available that can be used to better prepare for MISA.

8:00 a.m. – 9:00 a.m., Conference Room 1

Audience Code: G

“The 3Es - Effective, Embedded, Engaging Formative Assessments”

Presenters: Beckie Gladfelte & Lynda Hampshire, Calvert County

Drowning in data? Not sure to do with all those numbers? Need quick engaging approaches to check students’ understanding? Learn easy to embed interactive strategies that assess student understanding toward CCSS standards. These effective learning strategies motivate and engage students to show their understanding through listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

8:00 a.m. – 9:00 a.m., Conference Room 2

Audience Code: E

“Names behind the Numbers”

Presenters: Gina Massella & Tim Guy, Howard County

Learn how the HCPSS used interdisciplinary teams composed of selected staff from school administration, curriculum and instruction, student services, special education, and shared accountability, to provide school specific problem solving sessions addressing individual student requirements and implementation of the Bridge Plan for Academic Validation.

8:00 a.m. – 9:00 a.m., Conference Room 3

Audience Code: H

“PSAT/NMSQT for Grade 10”

Presenter: Marilyn Powell, Montgomery County

This study examines trends in redesigned PSAT/NMSQT participation and performance among Grade 10 test takers, providing information about students’ progress toward meeting college and career readiness benchmarks. Areas of strength and need are highlighted to assist instruction.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 2017

8:00 a.m. – 9:00 a.m., Conference Rooms 4 & 5

Audience Code: G

“Selecting Evidence-Based Programs and Interventions”

Presenter: Dara Shaw, MSDE

Federal law and good decision-making requires choosing educational programs based on evidence that links that program to the current problem. But finding, interpreting, and evaluating "evidence" is challenging. There is a lack of understandable sources and a flood of research that is difficult to apply. Learn how to define "evidence-based" activities, strategies, and interventions; locate evidence about those activities; and evaluate the evidence to determine if the activity or program is truly evidence-based.

8:00 a.m. – 9:00 a.m., Conference Room 6

Audience Code: G

“Impacting Student Engagement through Professional Peer Coaching: A Model of Differentiation for Educators”

Presenters: Laura Breeding, Jaclyn Murray-Lockerman & Shawn Parks, Caroline County

Classroom teachers will discuss Lockerman Middle School's evolution into professional peer coaching and share their model of progression from pineapple walk observations to a traditional one on one peer coaching partnership. With the goal of increasing student engagement, this differentiated approach makes professional peer collaboration accessible to all staff.
